ORGANIZATION OF FEDERAL EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

MARCH 7, 1952.—Ordered to be printed

Mr. McCLELLAN, from the Committee on Government Operations, submitted the following

REPORT

The Committee on Government Operations (formerly the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments) submits herewith a chart [1] outlining the organization of Federal executive departments and agencies, with personnel assignments to each operating unit down to the division level, as of January 1, 1952. This is the tenth in a series of similar charts prepared by the committee indicating organizational breakdown and employee assignments, the first of which was issued on January 1, 1947.

Appendix A of the report contains a comparative analysis of organizational breakdown and personnel allocations by departments and agencies for the last 5 years.

REORGANIZATIONS EFFECTUATED DURING 1951

The report and the accompanying chart prepared by the committee sets forth in detail all reorganizational changes effectuated throughout the Government during the past calendar year. These reorganizations have been largely due to the defense effort and a number of them conform to recommendations made by the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. During this period a total of eight new defense organizations have been created. Two of these new agencies absorbed functions previously vested in other agencies which were abolished. In addition, two others, the Philippine War Damage Commission and the Philippine Alien Property Administration, expired under the provisions of the basic laws which created them, the functions of the latter being transferred to the Department of Justice. One reorganization plan was approved by Congress in 1951, which brought about a complete revision of the structure of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. A complete list of agencies abolished or created since January 1, 1947, is included in appendix A, and organization changes effectuated since January 1, 1951, are set forth in detail by departments and agencies on pages 25 to 27.

NOMENCLATURE AND COMPONENTS

In accordance with a policy initiated by this committee in the Eightieth Congress (S. Rept. No. 243), the chart reflects continuing improvement in nomenclature standards in the various operating branches of the Federal Government.

During the calendar year 1951, the outstanding example of conformance with this program is reflected in the reorganization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, to which reference was made in the previous report where it was pointed out that the Bureau had operating "units" covering more than 50,000 employees. The major change effected by the Bureau, in conformance with the recommendations made by this committee and approved by the Hoover Commission, was the readjustment of its organizational structure, renaming the previously designated "units" as "divisions."

The Department of the Interior also reported that the Bureau of Reclamation has revised its organization titles to follow standard nomenclature recommended by the committee, and that the entire Department organization now conforms to these recommendations except for some few minor instances within the bureaus where variation is unavoidable.

In initiating this effort toward bringing about uniformity in nomenclature throughout the executive branch of the Government, emphasis has been placed on the desirability of having comparative components designated with similar titles. For instance, a "department" should include only those departments of the Government which are headed by a Cabinet officer, with other independent operating components designated as "agency," "commission," "administration," or "corporation," and components within these structures designated as "service," "bureau," "division," "branch," "section," or "unit," to be so named to accord with their relative size and importance.

This program has been generally adhered to by gradual changes effectuated during the intervening 5-year period, except in isolated cases. One example of a complete deviation from this program is the action of the Navy Department during 1951, in that the United States Marine Corps changed its "Personnel Division" to "Personnel Department." To avoid confusion in compiling the nomenclature summary, it is necessary to list this and another of the same type components under "Miscellaneous and functional groups" of the department. Including these two "divisions" as "departments" would create confusion, since there are only 12 departments in the Federal Government, of which 3 are incorporated within the Department of Defense.

In the nomenclature summary shown on the chart, totaling 2,055, all field offices, regardless of the number involved, were counted as a single component. For instance, in the Bureau of Post Office Operations of the Post Office Department, there are included 446,732 employees in the field service; and in the Department of Agriculture, the Production and Marketing Administration reported 387 field offices and 3,006 county offices staffed by non-Federal employees. In each instance, these activities were included as one unit. To attempt to list field office breakdowns which are utilized to some extent by practically every department and agency of the Government would mean a chart outline which would be too large to serve any useful purpose. In the "Miscellaneous and functional" category are included all operative, descriptive, or functional components which do not conform to the accepted nomenclature designations included in this summary.

The total of 2,055 operating components to which personnel assignments were made on January 1, 1952, consisting of 12 departments and 48 independent agencies, and 1,995 components, reflect an increase of 180 over the 1,875 reported on January 1, 1951. Of these, 94 were added in the executive departments and 87 in the independent agencies, 1 less being reported by the Executive Office of the President. Most of these additions were due to the creation of new defense agencies authorized by the Congress, some of which have been set up as separate commissions, and others within existing departments or agencies.

In the first chart released by the committee, operating components totaling 2,369 units were reported. Many of these, however, included components which have not been incorporated in the present figure, since they did not conform to the general objective of the committee in normally reporting major operating units down to the division level.

EMPLOYEES

During the past calendar year there has been an increase of 319,050 employees in the executive branch, which now brings the total to 2,484,412, exceeding the highest previous postwar total reported on January 1, 1947, by 221,787. These figures do not include employees serving without compensation (WOC), of which there were reported totals of 86,132 on January 1, 1951, and 53,369 on January 1, 1952. Excluded also are 41,626 uncompensated employees of the Selective Service System serving as local board members, advisers to registrants, etc.

Of these increases during 1951, a total of 289,361 was in the Department of Defense. Of the remaining 29,689, the largest increases were reflected in the Post Office Department, 16,331; Economic Stabilization Agency, 15,797 (which was due in part to the transfer of 2,523 employees in the Office of the Housing Expediter); Tennessee Valley Authority, 5,432; State Department, 4,814; and the Department of Justice with an increase of 3,838.

To somewhat offset these increases, decreases in personnel were reported by several departments and agencies, as follows: Veterans' Administration, 9,147; Departments of Interior, Agriculture, and Commerce by 4,228, 3,317, and 852, respectively; Housing and Home Finance Agency, 1,797; Reconstruction Finance Corporation, 742; Panama Canal Company, 263; Executive Office of the President, 239; Interstate Commerce Commission, 204; and the American Battle Monuments Commission, 173. Other decreases ranging from 63 to 162 employees were reported by the National Labor Relations Board, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Communications Commission, and the Displaced Persons Commission.

The increases of 289,361 in the Department of Defense during 1951 were distributed on the following basis: 96,913 in the Department of the Army, 97,753 in the Department of the Navy, and 94,695 in the Department of the Air Force. The total figure of 1,276,927 compares with a corresponding total of 1,006,478 reported on January 1, 1947, or a net increase of 270,449.

Over the 5-year period, increases of 52,621 are shown in the Post Office Department, 18,347 in the Department of Commerce, 7,490 in the Department of State, 7,162 in the Tennessee Valley Authority, 5,271 in the Department of the Interior, and 5,145 in the Federal Security Agency. The major decreases reflected included 48,579 in the Veterans' Administration, 14,163 in the Department of Agriculture, 13,038 in the Department of the Treasury, 8,437 in the Panama Canal Company, and 6,812 in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

EMPLOYEES IN THE LEGISLATIVE AND JUDICIAL BRANCHES

The total of 2,484,412 employees reported does not include 22,463 under the legislative branch, nor 3,931 employees in the judicial branch of the Government. Employees in the legislative branch are allocated as follows: Government Printing Office, 7,759 (including 287 field employees); General Accounting Office, 6,786; Library of Congress, 2,182; Architect of the Capitol, 1,131 (including 47 employees in the Botanic Garden, and 100 employees in the House Restaurants); and 4,605 employees of the Congress, 1,800 in the Senate and 2,805 in the House of Representatives.

The judicial branch employees are allocated as follows: United States District Courts, 3,086; Circuit Court of Appeals, 341; Administrative Office of the United States Courts, 115; United States Supreme Court and Marshal's Office, 203; Court of Claims, 68; United States Customs Courts, 67; Courts of Customs and Patent Appeals, 23; Clerk of the Supreme Court, 17; and Territorial Court of Hawaii, 11.

There are, therefore a total of 2,510,806 employees in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government. All figures include WAE (while actually employed) and part-time employees, but exclude WOC (employees serving without compensation).

EMPLOYEE INCREASES OR DECREASES BY AGENCIES

Department of State.—The total personnel assignments represent a net increase of 4,814 persons in the period from January 1, 1951, to January 1, 1952. The increases in departmental and foreign service employment during this period are attributable chiefly to expansions in the "Campaign of Truth" and "Point 4" programs. Some increases were reported in other organizations of the Department and result from activities carried on in support of the above-mentioned programs and to the enlarged responsibilities of the Department in the present national emergency.

Department of Agriculture.—Total paid employment in the Department decreased from 69,479 as of December 31, 1950, to 66,162 as of December 31, 1951. In this reduction there was a decrease of approximately 3,000 full-time employees, resulting principally from budgetary limitations. Seasonal employment varied during the year, with the greatest number being employed during the summer months but without noticeable difference as of December 31 each year.

Department of Commerce.—There was a decrease of 852 employees in the Department since the last report made as of January 1, 1951. The largest reduction was in the Bureau of the Census which dropped from 11,882 to 4,863 as the work connected with the Seventeenth Decennial Census came to a close. To offset this reduction were increases brought about by intensification ot the defense effort, particularly in the National Production Authority, which jumped from 789 to 4,698 employees, and in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, which increased from 1,478 to 3,082 as it became necessary to add employees in the Office of International Trade for export control purposes and in the field service to support the NPA field programs. The Bureau of Standards also had an increase of over 1,000 employees as it stepped up its research work for the military services.

Department of Labor.—The increase of 1,290 employees in the last year is due to added responsibilities under the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and under the Mexican Farm Labor Act of July 12, 1951 (Public Law 78). Almost one-half of the increased personnel are engaged on requests for rulings of the Wage Stabilization Board, Economic Stabilization Agency, which are filed with field offices of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Defense Production Administration.—Total paid personnel numbered 413 as of December 31, 1951. The peak of employment (449 persons) was reached September 7.

Defense Transport Administration.—Personnel reported as of January 1, 1952, totaled 217 employees, an increase of 141 employees. This increase is due primarily to the fact that the organization has, during the last year, moved into the intermediate stage of organization preparatory to assuming additional functions and programs in line with the acceleration of the national-defense program.

Displaced Persons Commission.—As of January 1, 1952, the total number of employees on the rolls of the Displaced Persons Commission was 264. Of this number 158 were stationed overseas. Due to the impending liquidation of the Commission and the cut in appropriation, it has been necessary to issue reduction-in-force notices to personnel both in the Washington office and overseas offices. During this quarter of the fiscal year it is anticipated that approximately 60 employees will be separated from the rolls, including 40 overseas employees.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.—During the past year there has been a net decrease of 75 employees, most of which was the result of declining activity in the Division of Liquidation.

Federal Security Agency.—An increase of 733 employees during 1951 was reported by the FSA. In the Division of International Relations, Office of the Administrator, nine employees are included that were not formerly reported because paid from funds supplied by the Department of State and Department of the Army. A recent instruction from the Civil Service Commission requires that such employees be reported to them by the agency that supervises their work. For consistency with the reports to the Civil Service Commission, these employees are included in this report. The only significant increase or decrease in personnel anticipated during the current fiscal year is an increase in the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, up to the limit provided by the Jensen amendment, to process higher workloads in maintenance of accounts of employee earnings and perform work in connection with the railroad-retirement amendments.

General Services Administration.—During the calendar year 1951 there was a net increase of 1,277 employees in the General Services Administration. This resulted primarily from the expanding workload related to defense programs. No changes are anticipated during 1952 unless additional responsibilities are assigned. Seasonal variation in employment is negligible in this Administration.

Housing and Home Finance Agency.—The 442 employees in the Home Loan Bank Board, a constituent agency of the HHFA, are substantially fewer than the number reported as of January 1, 1951. This reduction results largely from the complete liquidation of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, which last year comprised 245 employees out of the total reported. There are three employees still engaged on work solely related to the final HOLC liquidation.

No major changes in organization have been made in the Federal Housing Administration since the last report. The total of 5,230 employees, compared with a previous total of 6,411, has been brought about by reduced activities and improved procedures. Although there has been some cut-back in housing for peacetime civilian use and a consequent reduction in workload, this has been to some extent offset by expanded defense housing programs.

The Public Housing Administration, a constituent agency, shows a net decrease of 271 positions below the number on the rolls as of January 1, 1951.

Railroad Retirement Board.—The personnel assignments of the Railroad Retirement Board were reduced since the last report by various measures installed to increase the efficiency and economy of operations, reaching a low point of 1,999 at the end of October 1951. The passage of Public Law 234, Eighty-second Congress, on October 30, 1951, amending the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937, substantially increased the administrative work of the Board. These amendments, in addition to increasing the current workload, required the adjustment under various provisions of over 400,000 monthly annuities and established new annuities for spouses of retired employees, applications for which are anticipated from some 85,000 wives of individuals on the current payment rolls. This work is now well in progress and will continue for several more months and accounts for the fact that the personnel assignments have increased from the low point in October to slightly more than those in effect January 1, 1951. The bulk of the added adjustment work is being accomplished, however, by means of a 6-day-week operation, which is not reflected in the number of personnel shown as assigned to the various organization units.

Tennessee Valley Authority.—The increase of 5,432 over the total employment of 15,161 reported for January 1, 1951, is due to a further increase in steam plant, transmission line, and substation construction.

ORGANIZATION CHANGES SINCE JANUARY 1, 1951

The following is a brief summation of internal reorganizations effectuated by departments and agencies during the calendar year 1951, as reported to the committee:

Department of State.—The Technical Cooperation Administration has been expanded by the transfer to it of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs; the Division of International Broadcasting has been redesignated in recognition of its expanded scope and operation as the Office of International Broadcasting; the Office of the Director, International Security Affairs, was abolished and its personnel transferred to the Special Assistant for Mutual Security Affairs; the Office of International Trade Policy was functionally subdivided into the Office of International Materials Policy and the Office of Economic Defense and Trade Policy; and on January 16, 1952, there was established the International Information Administration centralizing at one point the responsibility for the conduct of the Department's international information and educational exchange programs.

Office of the Secretary of Defense.—

1. The position of Vice Deputy United States Representative, North Atlantic Council (Defense) was established as the personal representative of the Secretary of Defense in London to assist the Deputy United States Representative, North Atlantic Council, in the coordination and presentation of the Department of Defense position on North Atlantic Treaty matters.

2. Another position of Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense was established as the Secretary's personal representative to recommend solutions to a wide variety of problems of concern to the Secretary, such as his present assignment to look into all aspects of United States defense effort in Western Europe.

3. An Executive Office of the Secretary was established as a secretariat or clearing house for policy matters within the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the position of Executive Secretary was abolished.

4. The Director of Administration was assigned additional responsibilities for domestic security matters within the Department of Defense and a Domestic Security Coordinating Council was established within his office to coordinate the interrelated aspects of planning for defense against unconventional forms of attack, disaster planning, the military aspects of civil defense planning, industrial security planning, administrative readiness planning, continental United States defense planning, and matters under consideration by the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security.

5. The organization of the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower and Personnel) established in the latter part of 1950 was further developed to encompass responsibility for all manpower and personnel functions, including those formerly assigned to the Personnel Policy Board (which was abolished), the Civilian Components Policy Board, which was redesignated as the Reserve Forces Policy Board, the Armed Forces Chaplains Board, and certain manpower functions previously assigned to the Munitions Board.

6. The Assistant to the Secretary for Foreign Military Affairs and Military Assistance was redesignated as the Assistant to the Secretary for International Security Affairs and a new unit for North Atlantic Treaty Affairs was established within his office.

7. The Office of Medical Services and the Armed Forces Medical Advisory Committee to the Secretary of Defense were abolished and the responsibilities and functions of those activities were consolidated in the new agency, the Armed Forces Medical Policy Counsel.

8. Over-all responsibility for management improvement was vested in the Defense Management Committee and management engineering functions previously assigned to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) and the Director of Administration were reassigned to the Committee.

9. An Armed Forces Housing Agency was established under the Chairman of the Munitions Board with responsibility for providing policies, standards, criteria, and procedures governing family housing matters within the Department of Defense.

10. Armed Forces regional councils were set up jointly under the Munitions Board and the Assistant Secretary for Manpower and Personnel in the key cities of 13 geographical areas of the continental United States for the purpose of coordinating production, procurement, manpower, and related matters.

11. In addition to the above organizational changes within the Department of Defense, the United States Court of Military Appeals was established in accordance with article 67 of Public Law 506, Eighty-first Congress. Under the act the Department of Defense provides the personnel and other support for the court.

Other organizational changes have been made since January 1, 1952, as follows: There has been established (a) the position of Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Military Production to expedite Department of Defense production programs and break production bottlenecks; and (b) a position of Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Military Procurement Methods to recommend measures for reducing the lag between the time when procurement dollars are made available and deliveries are made. The Secretary of Defense has also delegated his authority for renegotiation under the 1948 act to the new Renegotiation Board established pursuant to the 1951 act, and the Military Renegotiation Policy and Review Board abolished.

Department of the Navy.—In the Executive Officer of the Secretary, the General Board was discontinued during the period reported upon. The Naval Sentence Review and Clemency Board has been replaced by the Naval Clemency Board. Civilian personnel of both the Physical Review Board and the Military Liaison Committee to the Atomic Energy Commission are covered under "Special assignments and details to other agencies."

Under the Chief of Naval Operations, the General Planning Group and the Progress Analysis Group have been added to the staff elements delineated.

In the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, the Assistant Chief for Legislation and Liaison with Other Agencies has been discontinued and the following elements have been redesignated: Finance Division is now the Comptroller Division; Administrative and Management Division has been changed to the Administrative Office; and the Assistant Chief for Welfare is now the Assistant Chief for Morale Services. Two new elements have also been added; viz, the Armed Forces Medical Publications Agency and the Assistant Chief for Women.

In the Bureau of Ordnance, an Inspection Division and a Legal Division have been added. In the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, a Comptroller and an Assistant Chief for Transportation have been added, and the following elements have been redesignated: The Assistant Chief for Plans and Policies Coordination as the Assistant Chief for Planning; the Assistant Chief for Materiel and Supply Services as the Assistant Chief for Supply Management; and the Assistant Chief for Accounting and Finance as the Assistant Chief for Accounting and Disbursing.

Department of the Air Force.—The following changes have been made in the organizational structure and employed strength of the United States Air Force:

1. Employment increases occurred in all major commands, as the authorized build-up of the Air Force continued throughout the year.
2. Air Defense Command reestablished as a major air command on January 1, 1951. Central, Eastern, and Western Air Defense Forces transferred from Continental Air Command to this command.
3. Air Force Finance Division established as separate operating agency.
4. Third Air Division status as major air command terminated on January 21, 1951, and assigned to USAFE, along with headquarters and headquarters squadron thereof and all units assigned.
5. Air Pictorial Service established April 1, 1951, as separate operating agency.
6. Air Research and Development Command relieved from assignment on April 2, 1951, to Air Matériel Command.
7. Long Range Proving Ground Division, and headquarters and headquarters squadron thereof, redesignated on June 30, 1951, as Air Force Missile Test Center and headquarters thereof, respectively.
8. Air Engineering Development Division and headquarters thereof redesignated on August 3, 1951, as Arnold Engineering Development Center and headquarters thereof, respectively.
9. Headquarters, United States Air Force established the Joint Tactical Air Support Board and Joint Troop Carrier Board.

Department of the Treasury.—With respect to organizational changes since January 1, 1951, the Treasury Department advises that certain functions incident to the distribution of promotional material have been transferred from the Bureau of Public Debt, Chicago Departmental Office, to Savings Bonds Division, Distribution Center (Chicago).

The nomenclature of the organization segments of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has been changed to conform to that recommended by the committee. In addition, the name of the Technical Staff has been changed to the Appellate Staff, and the Miscellaneous Tax Unit changed to the Excise Tax Division. The responsibilities of this Division relating to tobacco taxes have been transferred to the Alcohol Tax Division and that Division has been redesignated the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

There is at present pending before the Congress Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1952 which would completely reorganize the Bureau of Internal Revenue, unless disapproved by the Senate. Should the plan become effective, changes implemented thereunder will be reported in the next chart, as the plan specifically provides they must be put into effect by December 1, 1952.

In the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Director's office has been reorganized into the Office of the Director, Office of the Associate Director, Office of the Assistant Director, and the Office of Planning. In addition, the Accounting Division, the Industrial Relations Division, and the Purchase, Storage, and Issue Division have been redesignated Office of the Budget and Accounts, Office of Industrial Relations, and the Materials Management Division, respectively.

Post Office Department.—Pursuant to the enactment of Public Law 712, the Post Office Department Financial Control Act of 1950, the process of decentralizing the audit functions of the Department mentioned at the time of the last report on December 31, 1950, has continued.

As a result of intensive studies, in collaboration with the General Accounting Office, it was decided also to consolidate the audit of the new money order with other functions of the Department, under jurisdiction of the Bureau of Accounts, and that these functions be decentralized to 12 regional accounting offices.

The regional accounting offices, which are located in the headquarters cities of Federal Reserve banks, began active operations on July 1, 1951, coincident with the inauguration of the revised money order system. It is anticipated that activities at Asheville, N. C., will be terminated at the close of fiscal year 1952, and that the 12 regional accounting offices will be placed in full operation during fiscal year 1953.

The Office of Hearing Examiners was established as a separate unit of the Office of the Postmaster General on July 8, 1951, by transfer of six positions from the Office of the Solicitor. This resulted from determination of the Attorney General on June 11, 1951, that formal hearings conducted before the Post Office Department were subject to the Administrative Procedure Act approved June 11, 1946.

Department of the Interior.—Major reorganizations in the Department during calendar year 1951 were reported as follows:

1. With the changes in the defense minerals responsibilities of the Department and the establishment of DMPA (Defense Materials Procurement Administration) the title of Defense Minerals Administration was changed to Defense Minerals Exploration Administration and a complete internal reorganization was effected. The new organization reflects the fact that Interior's defense minerals responsibilities are limited essentially to the minerals exploration activities and statistical and technical service work in Washington and the field to DMPA.

2. The Administrative Division of the Defense Production Staff, Office of the Secretary, was given the added responsibilities of performing the administrative services work of personnel, accounting, budget, procurement, property management, and management research for Defense Solid Fuels Administration and Defense Minerals Exploration Administration.

3. In view of the reduced funds available to carry out the defense fisheries responsibilities of the Department, the Defense Fisheries Administration was further integrated with the Fish and Wildlife Service. The Office of Program Director has been abolished. The Branches of Material Facilities and Economic Facilities were placed under a new Office of Chief of Operations which is also the Office of Chief, Branch of Commercial Fisheries, Fish and Wildlife Service. The field functions of the Defense Fisheries Administration have been transferred to the field office of the Fishery Market News Service, Branch of Commercial Fisheries, Fish and Wildlife Service. Facilitating administrative, technical, legal, and information services are provided by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

4. The Division of Adjudication in the Bureau of Land Management was abolished and its functions distributed between a new Division of Minerals and the Division of Land-Planning, the latter being renamed the Division of Lands. The Division of Minerals in addition to performing adjudication of mineral leasing applications will be expected to engage in programing for the mineral resources in public domain lands. Further, the names of the Divisions of Engineering and Grazing have been changed to Cadastral Engineering and Range Management, respectively.

5. A Division of Program has been created to coordinate program formulation and execution throughout the Bureau of Indian Affairs, with particular emphasis on programs relating to preparing Indians to assume responsibility for their own affairs and the eventual withdrawal of Federal supervision.

6. The position of Associate Director of the National Park Service was abolished and an additional Assistant Director position created.

7. In recognition of the increasing role of the Department in point 4 and other such programs the following units have been established: (a) Office of International Cooperation, Bureau of Land Management; and (b) Office of Foreign Activities, Bureau of Reclamation. In addition, a new fisheries mission was established in El Salvador by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Department of Agriculture.—There were no major reorganizations in the Department during the past year, but the following is important to note. Considerable progress has been made to implement congressional suggestions with respect to the Department's activities at the field level and in the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, and the defense program continues to have an impact on the Department's agencies.

Last February the Department announced as an objective a Nation-wide effort to consolidate field offices at the State and county levels to provide "one stop" service for farmers and thereby promote greater coordination and effectiveness in the administration of agricultural programs. This new central housing objective of the Department to headquarter all USDA personnel having State-wide responsibilities in a single State office, and all USDA personnel having county responsibilities in a single county office, implements some of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. Consolidation at the county level has been completed in nearly 50 percent of the 3,006 counties having USDA offices. State offices have been consolidated in 12 States and authorizations have been given and plans completed in 10 other States. The Secretary reports that the Department is already beginning to note management improvements in connection with the consolidated housing programs, and the opportunities for working out joint services for economy and improvement of operations appear extensive.

With respect to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, regional offices have been established at Greenfield, Mass.; Gulfport, Miss.; Minneapolis, Minn.; San Antonio, Tex.; and Berkeley, Calif. Control and regulatory divisions which formerly reported directly to the Chief of Bureau have been realined within the various geographic areas and now are assigned to one of the newly established regions.

Defense assignments continue to be absorbed within the established organization pattern of the Department although the scope and activity of defense projects increased considerably. The Agricultural Research Administration has shifted work assignments to meet defense research needs; the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations has had to make adjustments to handle the impact of work under the point 4 program of technical assistance abroad; the Forest Service has strengthened certain of its defense activities; an Office of Price was established in the Production and Marketing Administration; and the Department's agricultural mobilization committees throughout the country have played a most important role in aiding the Department to meet demands of the defense program. Every agency and field office of our organization, every organizational component, has been alerted to its defense obligations and contributes to the Department's defense effort as an integrated and interrelated part.

This committee has presently under consideration a bill, S. 1149, which would reorganize the Department of Agriculture along the lines recommended by the Hoover Commission. The structure as presently constituted and proposed under the revised bill is as follows:

Department of Commerce.—The organization picture remained fairly stable in the Department of Commerce during calendar year 1951. There was extensive reorganization within the immediate Office of the Secretary to provide better utilization of the secretarial level officers in view of the changing needs of the Department, but this reorganization is not reflected on the chart as it took place within a reporting unit. The National Production Authority also experienced organizational realinement during the year that is not reflected in the chart inasmuch as this agency had just been created at the time of the last report and no internal organization was shown therein.

The current report does reflect the creation of the National Shipping Authority in the Maritime Administration to perform the new defense functions of that agency, together with other minor organizational adjustments in that agency. Minor changes are also shown in the Patent Office, Bureau of Standards, and Weather Bureau.

Atomic Energy Commission.—Since the submission of the chart of January 1, 1951, the Raw Materials Operations Office has been redesignated a Washington division and is now included with the headquarters staff, and a new field office, the San Francisco Area Office, was established in June 1951 with responsibility for the execution of assigned Commission programs.

Civil Aeronautics Board.—The establishment of the Bureau of Air Operations, to which reference was made in Committee Report No. 11, has been completed. There have been transferred to that Bureau certain functions of the former Bureau of Law which has been reorganized and designated as the Office of the General Counsel. Also, there has been assigned to the Office of the General Counsel the opinion-writing function formerly lodged in the Bureau of Hearing Examiners.

There has been established in the Bureau of Safety Investigation a new Technical Division where certain technical functions formerly carried out by other divisions have been centralized.

In the Office of Administration (formerly designated as the Bureau of Administration) there has been some rearrangement of functions including provision for performance of certain housekeeping activities taken over from the Department of Commerce at the beginning of fiscal year 1952, as recommended by the Congressional Aviation Policy Board and the task force group of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch.

Civil Service Commission.—There have been no changes in the organizational units of the Civil Service Commission since the report of January 1, 1951; however, the name of the Personnel Classification Division was changed to Position Classification Division on January 1, 1952. This change was made to correctly describe the work of the Division, which is position classification rather than personnel classification.

Defense Materials Procurement Agency.—Established under Executive Order No. 10281, August 28, 1951.

Defense Production Administration.—The Defense Production Administration was established as an independent agency by Executive Order 10200 on January 3, 1951. The work of the agency is largely top-level planning, programing, and coordinating of production mobilization with respect to titles I, II, and III of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

Some segments of the National Security Resources Board and the Program Bureau of the National Production Authority formed the nucleus of the initial Defense Production Administration organization. Through progressive development, the organization structure on December 31, 1951, consisted of (1) the Administrator and his immediate office, which included the General Counsel and Assistant Administrator for Administration; (2) 8 offices with 28 divisions and staffs.

Broad programing and planning for allocation of scarce materials under title I of the act is controlled by the Defense Production Administration, with the National Production Authority performing most of the operating functions including the allotment of these materials to individual consumers and manufacturers. Because of this close relationship, the functions of the two agencies have been closely integrated. The organizations, are, whenever possible, complementary, and in a few instances responsibility for a function is vested in a single individual who serves as an official in both agencies.

Defense Transport Administration.—Due to the increased workload in the Administrator's office as well as throughout DTA, the organization chart was revised to elevate the Office of the Executive Assistant as an adjunct to the Administrator's immediate office, and the Tax Amortization and Defense Loans Branch raised to division status. These changes are reflected on the chart, effective as of November 1, 1951.

Economic Stabilization Agency.—On August 1, 1951, the Office of Rent Stabilization was established as a constituent agency of the Economic Stabilization Agency to replace the Office of the Housing Expediter. All personnel were transferred to the newly established agency.

Federal Communications Commission.—In the report of January 1, 1951, it was stated that a study of the Commission's broadcast activities was underway which might lead to the establishment of a Broadcast Bureau. This study has been completed and the resultant organizational changes are reflected in the revised chart.

At present the management consulting firm of McKinsey & Co. is conducting a survey of the Commission's field and staff activities. This study will probably result in further organizational realinements. Reorganizational changes arising from the field and staff study will be reflected in the next report.

Federal Civil Defense Administration.—Established under Public Law 920, Eighty-first Congress, January 12, 1951.

Federal Security Agency.—The Office of Education has been completely reorganized under a plan which generally followed recommendations made by outside consultants as a result of their review of the organization of the Office. The reorganization provides for strengthening the Office-wide planning and coordinating services and centers program operations in three major operating divisions. As indicated in the last report it has become necessary to establish in the Office of Education and the Public Health Service, Civilian Requirements Divisions to perform duties delegated to the Agency by the National Production Authority.

In the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, program operations have been reorganized in three major areas—medical services, nonmedical services, and services to the blind. Research operations and collection and analysis of program statistics have been combined to improve analysis of program trends and needs. Review and approval of State plans and amendments and the State budget and grants operations are now performed by a single division. Informational services are now part of the functions of the Office of the Director.

In the Public Health Service, an Arctic Health Research Center has been set up to perform functions formerly performed as an activity of the Division of Sanitation, with additional research functions; the Divisions of Chronic Disease and of Tuberculosis have been combined; as required by the act of August 15, 1950, the National Institutes of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases and of Neurological Diseases and Blindness have been set up, and the Office of Experimental Biology and Medicine has been abolished and its functions distributed among several institutes.

In the Social Security Administration, the Children's Bureau has discontinued the Conference on Children and Youth and has absorbed the work of the Division of Grants Fiscal Services in other divisions.

General Services Administration.—During the period January 1 through December 31, 1951, organization changes were made as follows:

1. The Wartime Civil Disaster Relief Planning Staff in the Office of the Administrator was abolished March 16, 1951, following the transfer of its functions to the National Security Resources Board and subsequently to the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

2. The Liquidation Division in the Office of the Comptroller was abolished January 31, 1951, and all its functions, personnel, and records relating to the liquidation of lend-lease, UNRRA, and related programs were transferred to the Accounts and Reports Division, Office of the Comptroller.

3. A Defense Accounts Division was established in the Office of the Comptroller on January 31, 1951, and assigned the financial management responsibilities related to the implementation of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. All of the functions, personnel, and records of the Liquidation Division relating to the renegotiation rebate program were transferred to the Defense Accounts Division.

4. A Controlled Materials Division was established in the Federal Supply Service on February 14, 1951, in connection with the designation of the General Services Administration as a claimant agency under the controlled materials program.

5. A Rubber Division was established in the Emergency Procurement Service February 19, 1951, in connection with the responsibilities assigned to the General Services Administration under the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

The Real Property Acquisition and Utilization Division in the Public Buildings Service will be redesignated as the Real Estate Division before the United States Government Organization Manual, 1952–53, is issued.

Housing and Home Finance Agency.—A number of significant changes have occurred in the organization structure of the Office of the Administrator since the submission of the Agency's report for January 1, 1951, as a result of which the total of 1,459 employees on January 1, 1952, is 191 less than last year. This process of reorganization has had as its main objectives (1) to strengthen the integration of new and recently transferred programs in the over-all organization structure; (2) to provide a framework for handling the housing credit and materials claimant functions under the Defense Production Act, in the field as well as in the headquarters office; (3) to provide a nucleus for operations under the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act; and (4) to achieve a more close-knit organization of top staff officials reporting to the Administrator so as to provide improved facilities for supervision and coordination of Agency programs and policies both in Washington and the field.

A new Division of Plans and Programs was established to provide a central point of coordination for defense programs of the Agency and for contact with the defense mobilization agencies. The Division has the key role in connection with designation of critical defense housing areas and development of locality programs of housing and community facilities in such areas; carries out the Agency's responsibilities for serving as claimant for materials for housing and certain related facilities; assists in the formulation of policies for the administration of housing credit controls; and coordinates Agency contacts with the defense mobilization agencies in connection with both need and material problems. The Division also assists the Administrator in discharging his statutory responsibilities for the management and disposition of Lanham Act housing, operating responsibility for which has been delegated to the Public Housing Administration.

The Operations Analysis Staff, which is responsible for formulating and appraising basic Agency policies and programs, now functions as an organization unit within the Division of Plans and Programs.

A new organization has been established in a Division of Community Facilities and Special Operations to bring together related programs of loans for prefabricated, Alaska, and college housing formerly carried on by separate divisions and staffs, with the public works planning and school construction programs and other activities already in the Community Facilities Service.

The responsibilities of existing field offices, which formerly served only the operating needs of the Community Facilities Service in the field, have been broadened to cover regional representation of the Office of the Administrator. With their conversion to regional office status, all of the field responsibilities of the Office of the Administrator were drawn together and a nucleus was established for the performance of existing and new defense functions. To coordinate Washington-field relations there has been established a new Division of Field Coordination with a very small staff.

The regional offices, each headed by a regional representative, administer in the field the programs assigned to the Division of Community Facilities and Special Operations (the programs for advance planning disposition of Lanham public works, disaster relief, college housing, prefabricated housing, and school construction). In addition, the regional offices represent the Administrator in the field and are responsible for necessary field work in connection with defense activities under the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act of 1951 and the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

A Compliance and Special Investigations Staff has been established in the office of the Deputy Administrator. The need for such a service arose as new operating programs and responsibilities were assigned to the Office of the Administrator. This Staff is responsible for the conduct of special investigations, including examination into alleged violations of law and regulations, acts of a fraudulent nature, and irregularities in connection with bids, contract provisions, financial transactions, land acquisition, and other operations relating to Agency programs.

Auditing and accounting functions of the Office of the Administrator were separated, and an Audit Branch established, in order to facilitate the independent review of Office of the Administrator financial transactions.

The Federal National Mortgage Association, since its transfer from the RFC, has achieved substantial economies both in personnel and administrative expenses. During the year 1951, the Association closed 10 of its field offices into other offices and reduced its personnel from 869 at January 1, 1951, to 616 on January 1, 1952. In addition to the positions eliminated as a result of the consolidation of field offices, several administrative steps were taken during the period which further reduced the number of employees to a minimum consistent with efficient operations. The Office of the Secretary and the Office of the Treasurer were consolidated into one Office of the Secretary-Treasurer.

The following changes in organization have taken place in the Public Housing Administration during the year: (1) The number of PHA field offices was reduced from 12 to 8 by the closing of the Seattle, Los Angeles, Detroit, and Philadelphia offices; (2) the Low-Rent Housing Division and the War Emergency Housing Division, each of which was headed by an Assistant Commissioner, were abolished and their functions reassigned as set forth in paragraphs 3 and 4 below; (3) a Development Division, headed by an Assistant Commissioner, was established to perform the development functions formerly assigned to the abolished Low-Rent Housing Division. As a part of this action, the former Project Planning and Cost Analysis Control Branches were combined into one Project Analysis Branch; (4) a Management and Disposition Division, headed by an Assistant Commissioner, was established to perform the management functions of the former Low-Rent Housing Division and the management and disposition functions of the former War Emergency Housing Division. As a part of this action, the former Maintenance Branch and the Operations Engineering Branch were combined into one branch; (5) the three Field Office Operations Divisions, each of which was headed by an Assistant Commissioner, were consolidated into one Operations Division, headed by an Assistant Commissioner. As a part of this action, the Production and Document Control Branch was transferred from the Administrative and Fiscal Division to the new Operations Division; and (6) the Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Litigation was abolished and the functions absorbed by the office of the Deputy General Counsel and there was established in the Management and Disposition Division on January 7, 1952, a Mortgage Servicing Branch, consisting of four positions.

Mutual Security Agency.—The Mutual Security Act of 1951 (Public Law 165, 82d Cong., October 10, 1951) provided for the abolition of the Economic Cooperation Administration and the transfer of certain of the personnel thereof to the Mutual Security Agency. In accordance with Executive Order 10300 the Economic Cooperation Administration was abolished on December 30, 1951, and the transfers to the new Agency were effected on that date.

The post of United States Special Representative in Europe was vacant as of January 1, 1952, and consequently does not appear on the attached list. The forthcoming session of the North Atlantic Council is expected to consider certain major changes in the structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. These changes may require certain adjustments in the arrangements for United States representation to this international agency, with consequent enlargement of its field of responsibility.

National Capital Park and Planning Commission.—A proposed bill to reorganize the Commission is now being processed by the Bureau of the Budget and will probably be introduced in the Congress in the next few weeks. Such reorganization, if approved, is likely to involve a small increase in personnel.

National Security Training Commission.—Established under the provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, Public Law 51, Eighty-second Congress, June 19, 1951.

National Science Foundation.—The National Science Foundation Act of 1950 (42 U. S. C. 1861–1875), approved May 10, 1950, provided for the establishment of the National Science Foundation to promote the progress of science, advance the national health and welfare, and secure the national defense.

The 24 members of the National Science Board were appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, on December 14, 1950. The full-time Director of the Foundation, also appointed by the President, by and with the consent of the Senate, took office on April 6, 1951.

The National Science Foundation Act provided that initially there should be four divisions: Medical Research; Mathematical, Physical, and Engineering Sciences; Biological Sciences; and Scientific Personnel and Education. These divisions and supporting offices were established at the time of the appointment of the Director. Since then they have been partially staffed. It is anticipated that the Foundation's full strength in 1953 will be about 130.

Panama Canal Company.—Effective July 1, 1951, under the terms of Public Law No. 841, Eighty-first Congress, and upon promulgation of Executive Order No. 10263, dated June 29, 1951, the maintenance and operation of the Canal enterprise became vested in the Panama Canal Company (the Panama Railroad Company as renamed), while functions relating to civil government, health, and sanitation became vested in the Canal Zone Government. There have been no significant revisions of the Panama Canal Company-Canal Zone Government since July 1, 1951, nor are there any proposed insofar as can be seen at the present time.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation.—The most significant changes which have occurred since the last report were made in accordance with Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1951, and are as follows:

1. The Board of Directors, composed of five members, was replaced by an Administrator.

2. A Loan Policy Board was established, composed of the Administrator as Chairman, the Deputy Administrator as Vice Chairman, the Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of Commerce, and one other member to be designated by the President from among the officers of the United States who are required to be appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

3. The Board of Review, composed of personnel of the Corporation, was established.

Other changes reflected on the organization chart are as follows:

1. Abolishment of the Information Division.
2. Establishment of the Office of Loan Agency Management.
3. Transfer of the Office of Investigation to the Office of General Counsel.
4. Change in the status of the office at Helena, Mont., from a loan agency to a branch office.
5. Establishment of a new loan agency at Columbia, S. C.
6. Abolishment of the branch office located at El Paso, Tex.

The report last year indicated that all field fiscal and accounting functions were to be centralized in 10 area fiscal offices. Complete centralization did not prove practical nor in the interest of good management. Therefore, the activities have been partially reestablished, under simplified procedures, in the individual field-loan agencies.

Renegotiation Board.—Established under the provisions of the Renegotiation Act of 1951, Public Law No. 9, Eighty-second Congress, March 23, 1951.

Securities and Exchange Commission.—There have been several relatively minor organizational adjustments within divisions and offices since the submission of the last report.

In April 1951, the six examining sections of the Division of Public Utilities, where the work pertaining to the large registered holding company systems was performed, were reorganized into four branches. Examination and enforcement work pertaining to acquisitions of utilities by affiliates, servicing arrangements, and holding company systems not identified with the major systems was performed by a seventh examining section and in the Section of Special Studies which also performed analytical and research work required in the operations of the entire Division. These two sections were reorganized into the Branch of Special Examinations and Studies. This has resulted in the more effective use of personnel and has also served to reduce the amount of review work which previously had been performed at the top division level by imposing greater responsibility for the determination of matters at the branch level.

The Section of Broker Dealer Inspection of the New York regional office was replaced by a new Section of Broker Dealer Inspection (Member Firms) and a new Section of Broker Dealer Inspection (nonmember Firms). This change took place in April 1951. It was a logical division of functions, since approximately half of the staff of the original section had been dealing almost exclusively with member firms of national securities exchanges and the remainder of the staff with over-the-counter firms.

The position of foreign economic adviser to the Commission was reestablished in May 1951. This was made necessary by an increasing volume of foreign problems. The duties of this position had been performed on a part-time basis by the Assistant Director in Charge of the Branch of Industry and Financial Analysis in the Division of Trading and Exchanges.

A minor realinement of functions also was effected in May 1951 in the Division of Trading and Exchanges by the transfer of a unit dealing with marketing statistics, which was formerly located in the Branch of Trading Practices and Exchange Markets, to the Branch of Industry and Financial Analysis. All of the statistical work of the Division is now centered in the latter Branch.

For many years, the Commission maintained a small Registration Unit in its San Francisco regional office where issuers in the Far West could, at their option, file registration statements and other documents required under the Securities Act of 1933 and the Trust Indenture Act of 1939. The Chairman reports that in August 1951 it became necessary to discontinue the Registration Unit, since this service could no longer be provided in view of the reductions in appropriations for the current fiscal year.

According to the report from the Commission, a reduction in appropriation also made it necessary to discontinue, in September 1951, two small branch offices located in Tulsa, Okla., and St. Louis, Mo. The Tulsa office consisted of two employees who assisted the Section of Oil and Gas, Division of Corporation Finance, primarily in connection with investigations relating to the enforcement of the requirements for compliance with regulations B and B–T for exemption of small offerings of oil and gas securities. The St. Louis office, which also consisted of two employees, was a branch of the Chicago regional office.

In September 1951, a substantial portion of offset reproduction work was transferred to the Government Printing Office. This resulted in a reduction in the staff of the Section of Duplicating, Division of Administrative Services, from 30 to 12. Although a cost accounting survey had indicated that this would involve a relatively small monetary saving, other considerations important from the management point of view made this action desirable. For example, certain publications, which had been distributed free of charge to individuals, firms, and corporations, now are sold on a subscription basis by the Superintendent of Documents, thereby bringing new fees to the Government. This action is in accord with a program initiated by this committee to adjust agency fees for special services. (See S. Rept. No. 2120, 81st Cong.)

Small Defense Plants Administration.—Established under provisions of the Federal Civil Defense Act of 1950, Public Law 920, Eighty-first Congress, January 12, 1951.

Tennessee Valley Authority.—Effective June 1, 1951, the title of the Office of the Chief Engineer was changed to Office of Engineering. The Office of the Chief Conservation Engineer and the Office of the Manager of Reservoir and Community Relations were discontinued at that time. The latter move brought six formerly subordinate program divisions into more direct contact with the General Manager and the Board in planning and deciding the nature and scope of TVA's resource development activities. It also resulted in delegations of more responsibility to these six divisions for doing work agreed upon.

Veterans' Administration.—Major organizational changes in the central office of the Veterans' Administration since January 1, 1951, were reported as follows:

In the Office of the Solicitor, a Deputy Solicitor was appointed, and a Legal Service, Litigation, was established.

In the Office of the Assistant Administrator for Legislation, the Legislative Projects Services IV and V were established.

The Voluntary Service was set up in the Office of the Assistant Administrator for Special Services.

The Contract Review and Appeals Staff was established under the Office of Assistant Administrator for Construction, Supply, and Real Estate.

The following organizational changes have been approved and are now in process of completion:

The Planning and Supervision Service and the Records Service under Contact and Administrative Services will be abolished and an Administrative Operations Service (Washington) will be established. The Philadelphia Records Center will be moved to Columbus, Ohio, and the designation changed to Records Service Center.

The Field Operations Service and the Special Insurance Projects Service under the Office of the Assistant Administrator for Insurance will be abolished, and the Insurance Operations Service (Washington) will be established.

The field organization of VA was also reorganized along the following lines:

Eleven hospitals have been completed and opened for the reception of patients, at the following locations: Poplar Bluff, Mo.; Omaha, Nebr.; Beckley, W. Va.; Erie, Pa.; Albany, N. Y.; Clarksburg, W. Va.; Seattle, Wash.; Miles City, Mont.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Denver, Colo.; and Madison, Wis. A new center having hospital and domiciliary activities was opened, for domiciliary members only, at Bonham, Tex.; the hospital part will accept patients in the near future. Five hospitals have been closed, three of them at locations where new hospitals have opened, one closed temporarily for conversion, and one closed without replacement.

A consolidation of the hospital and regional office at Jackson, Miss., into a center was effected.

One hundred and sixteen Veterans' Administration offices, which are small VA installations under the various regional offices, have been closed due to decrease in workload, and it is planned to close several more in the near future.

Three of thirteen district offices (which handle activities in connection with national service life insurance and death claims), formerly located at Boston, Mass., Richmond, Va., and New York, N. Y., were consolidated with the Philadelphia, Pa., district office; the Columbus, Ohio, district office was consolidated with the district office at Philadelphia on January 14, 1952.

Consolidation of the Seattle, Wash., and Chicago, Ill., district offices with the district office at Fort Snelling (St. Paul), Minn., and the consolidation of the Oakland, Calif., and the St. Louis, Mo., district offices with the district office at Denver, Colo., are now in process and such consolidations will be completed within the near future.

Because the details in connection with utilization of Government-owned space to save rentals have not been satisfactorily worked out in the southern area, two of the original district offices, namely, Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Tex., at present are unaffected by these consolidations. The VA organization as it now exists at both Fort Snelling (St. Paul), Minn., and Denver, Colo., consists of a district office and a regional office operating as a center under a single manager.

The forthcoming consolidation of insurance and death claims activities at these points will so increase the district office activities that it is planned to separate the regional offices from the district offices and operate them under independent management.

A management survey of the entire Veterans' Administration operations was started on January 15, 1951, and the report thereon is scheduled to be completed on or prior to May 1, 1952. In all probability, there will be a number of additional reorganization changes effectuated in accordance with these recommendations. In addition thereto, this committee has under consideration a bill, S. 1151, which would completely reorganize the Veterans' Administration in accordance with the recommendations of the Hoover Commission. Hearings have been tentatively scheduled by the Subcommittee on Reorganization to coincide with the submission of the management report.

REORGANIZATIONS EFFECTUATED BETWEEN JANUARY 1, 1947, AND JANUARY 1, 1952

During the 5-year period in which these reports have been compiled by this committee, there have been a number of major changes in department and independent agency structures. The following table sets forth 16 such agencies which have been abolished or transferred to other agencies, and lists 27 new agencies (or changes in name) which have been established during this period:

Independent Agencies Abolished, or Transferred to Other Agencies, Since 1947[1]

1. Department of War (name changed to Department of the Army).

APPENDIX A

Personnel Summary

The following table includes all paid personnel (excluding WOC), assigned to each Federal establishment as reported to the committee by the various departments and agencies, as of the dates indicated. The General Accounting Office, the Government Printing Office, the Library of Congress, and the Architect of the Capitol (all within the legislative branch of the Government), and the judicial branch, are excluded.
